

Dear FCC, Please note that I do find the weather and traffic services that XM satellite radio offers to be great assistance while traveling. It is great to have access to continuous traffic and weather info. Considering this is the only broadcast forum my family and I listen to. It is entirely too distracting and unsafe to search the am/fm radio dial while driving specifically searching for either Houston's or Dallas' weather and/or traffic channels. Progress. Don't stop it.

My family and I support the rejection of NAB's position 04-160.
